

Spreading solidarity, together!

A chain of solidarity

Year after year for over 53 years, Development and Peace — Caritas Canada has relied on people like you, who believe in a world of justice and peace. Last year, your solidarity allowed us to support over 100 projects in some 30 countries.

Development and Peace wants to bring together Canadians committed to dismantling unjust social, political and economic structures by supporting partners in the Global South and by acting for change here in Canada.

You are receiving this letter today because I believe that you will want to help spread solidarity.

In communities across the Global South, Development and Peace's partners work for peace, democracy, women's rights and ecological justice. With your help, they can do even more!

A donation from you will help Development and Peace sustain and strengthen the work they do with communities whose poverty and vulnerabilities are worsened by the COVID-19 pandemic.

Building a world of justice

Development and Peace — Caritas Canada is a democratic movement for international solidarity that was founded by the Canadian Conference of Catholic Bishops in 1967. Inspired by the preferential option for the poor, we provide long-term support to our partners' efforts to build a world of justice and peace.

In the Global South

We support local organizations working on:

- Democracy and citizen participation
- Ecological justice
- Justice for women
- Peace and reconciliation
- Humanitarian aid

In Canada

- We educate people on the causes of poverty and injustice
- We mobilize a movement of international solidarity
- We advocate for fair and just policies

Our impact

16.8 million people

directly impacted by our projects in the Global South

Support for hundreds of projects run by grassroots partners among communities in 35 countries

An example of our work in Ecuador

Organic allotment gardens help feed communities

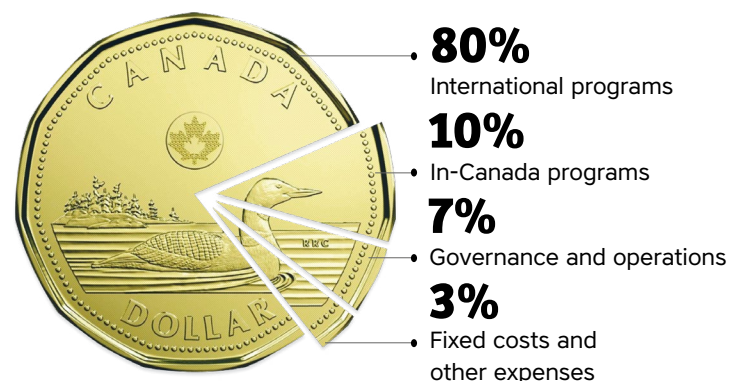

The Center for Development, Dissemination and Social Research (CEDIS, Centro de Desarrollo, Difusión e Investigación Social), trained 505 families and provided them seedlings to cultivate allotment gardens.

"I received all kinds of plants for my allotment. Because the harvest coincided with the start of the pandemic, we could continue feeding ourselves without having to go to town to buy supplies. Thank-you to Development and Peace and CEDIS!"

How your dollar makes a difference

In addition to funding our community development programs, your donation helps Development and Peace leverage financing from other sources like Global Affairs Canada.

For example, a donation of:

$20 makes a Brazilian farmer's work more sustainable by strengthening local organizations and improving access to markets.

$50 gives a family in the Lake Chad Basin an energy-efficient stove and a solar lamp.

$125 lets a Haitian family practice sustainable agriculture, earn a better living and become self-sufficient by diversifying its crops.

$250 provides a year's human rights and ecological training to a youth in the Niger Delta.
